As before, the Registers are printed in abstract form, but comprise all facts which are recorded, and abbreviations, most of which are evident to the reader, are freely used. A full list of them has been given in preceding volumes, together with a summary of Parish Register history.

Thanks are due to the clergy, the custodians of the respective registers, for leave to print them, and for facilities afforded in transcription.

The services of those who have transcribed and collated the registers are mentioned in the introductions, but the Editor desires to record again in this general note his and the subscribers' indebtedness to Miss Auden, Miss M. B. Auden, the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, Mr. T. R. Horton, the Rev. W. G. Clark-Maxwell, and to the gentleman who has most kindly undertaken the transcription of the registers in Clun Deanery.

The Register of Lydham.

Lydham Registers.

Lydham is a parish situate about two miles north-east from Bishop's Castle, in the rural deanery of Clun, archdeaconry of Ludlow, diocese of Hereford, and hundred of Purslow.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, contains this account of the Parish Registers of Lydham —"Lædon, otherwise Lyddam R. No. I., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1596—1659. No. II., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1679—1711, interrupted by No. III., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1690—1702, by No. IV., Bap., Bur., 1704—1753, and by No. V., Bap., Bur., 1751—1812. No. VI., Marr., 1755—1812. No Register 1659—1679, no Marr. Register 1711—1755 can be found."

The Registers of Lydham are contained in six vols.

Vol. I. begins in 1597 and ends 1660. It contains 32 leaves, besides the cover, which is an old deed of the time of Elizabeth between John Longford and Hugh Langford, of co. Hereford, concerning land at Kyneton, co. Hereford. The vol., which is of parchment, has had 7 leaves added outside the original cover.

Vol. II. begins 1679 and goes to 1711. It is of paper, and contains the entries of burials in woollen from 1679 to 1688, and then goes on with a rough copy of the general register from 1707 to 1711. Apparently some leaves are missing. It contains 12 leaves and part of the cover. There is a gap from 1689 to 1707.

Vol. III. begins 1690 and goes to 1702. It contains 5 leaves only, besides the cover, on which are entries.

Vol. IV. begins 1704 and goes to 1750. It contains 20 leaves, besides the cover.

Vol. V. begins 1751 and ends 1812. It contains 23 leaves, besides the cover.

Vol. VI. begins 1755 and ends 1812. It contains 19 leaves of Banns and Marriages only.

The most important families that occur in the Register are those of Oakeley of Oakeley, Herbert, Baxter, Bright, Collins, Bill, and Blainey.

The parish of Lydham contains 2,885 acres, and in 1891 possessed 156 inhabitants, of whom 56 were of Aston, which, though in the parish of Lydham, is in Montgomeryshire.

The Domesday Book tells us that before the Conquest, Edric Sylvaticus was Lord of the Manor of Lydham, but later Earl Roger de Montgomery kept it in his own hands, and its value had increased since the change of ownership. It was then a large manor of 15 hides, with a mill and two leagues of wood. The inhabitants were 14 villeins with a bailiff and a priest, six bordars (bordarii), who were tenants superior to the villeins and did not pass with the land on which they lived, and six radmans—tenants another degree higher still. On the forfeiture of Earl Robert de Belesme, Henry I. made Lydham part of the Honour of Montgomery, and separated More from it. In the 12th century it was held by Baldwin de Boulers, whose widow Wentlian is mentioned as presenting to the church. Later it was in the hands of the Cantilupes, and in 1265 was granted by the King to Adam de Montgomery, who in 1267 obtained a charter for a weekly market there on Fridays, and two annual fairs which were to be held on the eve, the day, and two days following the feasts of SS. Philip and James, and St. Mary Magdalene. Before the middle of the 14th century Lydham had passed into the hands of the Charltons, lords of Powis. Aston was in the 13th century a part of the estate of the Bishops of Hereford, though at one time alienated to the Honour of Montgomery. The Lea, near Lydham, but in the parish of Bishop's Castle, was in the early 17th century the home of Vincent Edwardes, the parents of whose wife, Mary Kemsey, were buried at Lydham in 1601. Priamus Lloyd, whose daughter Elizabeth was buried at Lydham in 1608, married Katherine, daughter of Edward Fox of Greet. The Foxes were connected by marriage with the Herberts. The modern house of Oakeley is in Lydham parish, but the township is in that of Bishop's Castle.

The mention of a priest at Lydham in 1086 shows the early existence of a church here. The advowson was in the hands of the lord of the manor, and almost throughout the 14th century the rectors were presented by the Charltons, lords of Powys. In 1710, 1727, and 1741, it was presented to by Richard Oakeley, and 1778 by John Oakeley, and remained with the Oakeley family till it passed recently to Arthur H. Sykes, Esq.

In 1255 the benefice was valued at 100s., and in 1534—5 it was given as worth £10, less 6d. for synodals. The Rector at this latter date was Roger Walcott. A list of the early rectors during the 13th and 14th centuries is given by Mr. Eyton in the "Antiquities of Shropshire," vol. XI., p. 283, as follows:—

1086. A priest mentioned.
1255. Adam, Parson of Lydham.

Sept. 13, 1893. Edward Colls Gathercole, Rector; M.A. St. Edmund Hall, Oxford.

The Church, which is dedicated to the Holy Trinity, consists of chancel, nave, south porch, and a small western turret containing two bells, and is in the decorated style of architecture. It was restored in 1885, when the plaster ceiling was removed, and a fine old timber roof in the nave and chancel was opened out.

In 1553, Thomas Edwards was parson of "Ledom," and Rowland Morys, churchwarden, when the following goods were committed to their charge:—"Inprimis a chalys of sylvyr. It: a vestement yt ys of grene sylke and crule. It: a vestyment of wyte crule. It: a vestyment of grene sylke. It: ij auterclothys and ij candelstyks of bras. It: ij bellys and a cruss of bras. It: ij cruetts of lede. It: a cope of branch damaske coloryd blew."

In a "religious census" taken of Shropshire in 1676 Lydham possessed 125 inhabitants above the age of 16, all "Conformists," and More 153, while Clunbury with 329 Conformists had 5 Nonconformists. This shows a great decrease in the population in the two hundred years.

The registers have been transcribed by a gentleman who has kindly undertaken those in the Deanery of Clun, and the proofs as they passed through the press have been compared with the original registers by Miss Auden. They are here printed by permission of the Rector, the Rev. E. C. Gathercole.

The Register of Edgton.

Edgton Registers.

Edgton is a parish, five miles north-east from Bishop's Castle, in the diocese of Hereford, rural deanery of Clun, and hundred of Purslow. It includes the townships of Horderley (formerly extra-parochial), Brownslow, and Ridgeway. The parish contains 1,652 acres, and the population in 1881 was 223.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives this account of the Edgton Registers:—"Edgton P.C. No. I., Bap. Bur. 1722—1794. Marr. 1722—1753. No. II., Bap. Bur. 1795—1812. No. III., Marr. 1754—1812."

The first volume, which begins in 1722 and ends in 1794, consists of 26 leaves of parchment. Its cover is a deed, the date of which is missing, between Humphrey Sandford, son of Richard Sandford, deceased, and Humphrey Rawlins and Lucy, his wife, and Thomas, their son. It is in good condition. The second volume, which extends from 1795 to 1812, has only five leaves of parchment. The third volume is the usual printed marriage Register. It extends from 1754 to 1811, and contains seventeen paper leaves of banns and marriages only. At the end of the book are some extracts relating to the Sandford family, taken from the transcripts in the Diocesan Registry at Hereford. Nothing is known of any Registers prior to the year 1722. The earlier ones are lost.

The most important family that occurs in the Register is that of Sandford, now of the Isle of Rossall. Other old families of this parish are those of Lucas (styled "Mr." in the Register), James, and Bright. The Birds are sometimes styled "gent," and were here in 1552.

The church of Edgton was originally merely a chapelry of Clun, and in the reign of Richard I. was granted, with Clun Church, to Wenlock Priory. Edgton Chapel was absorbed into the Church of Clun, and was virtually suppressed. Its Incumbents are not recorded in the Hereford Diocesan Registers. In 1580 Queen Elizabeth granted the church of Clun with its chapels (which included Edgton) to Edmund Downynge and Peter Aysheton. In 1604 James I. granted it to Thomas Earl of Suffolk and Henry Howard, in whose family it remained until 1677, when it was conveyed to John Walcot. In 1725, Humphrey Walcot sold the chapel and titles of Edgton to Richard Fleming; and in 1790 Frances Harries, widow, who was daughter and devisee of Edward Fleming, conveyed them to James Fleming Baxter. In 1812 the Rev. Humphrey Sandford purchased the advowson of Edgton, with the great and small tithes and glebe land; and the same now belongs to Humphrey Sandford, Esq., of the Isle. For centuries prior to 1812 Edgton and Sibdon Carwood seem to have been held together.

The Church of St. Michael consists of nave, chancel, south porch, and western belfry, and was rebuilt in the middle of the nineteenth century. It contains a monument to Mr. Matthew Sandford, who died 4 August, 1769 Martha, his wife, who died 30 March, 1764; Humphrey, their son, who died 10 Sept., 1766; and Humphrey, Richard, and Edward, who died in infancy. In the chancel is a stone with this inscription:—"Here lye the bodies of Humphrey Sandford, late of Edgton, Esq., and of Elizabeth his wife. She dyed the 13th of Sept. 1727, aged 64. He dyed 9 June 1734, aged 76."

On 11 August, 1552, John Badeley, clerk, Thomas Bird and Lewis Taylor, churchwardens, and John Baugh and Thomas Bird, parishioners, made a return of the following goods and ornaments belonging to Edgton:—"Imprimis j challs of selvr, ij small bells, j sacren bell, j pere of vestments of saten abruggs, ij crosses of brasse, ij cruetts of pewtr, a senser of brasse, j lampe of brasse, ij altr. cloths, j hollywatr. pott of brasse. Item on surplese, j towell."

In 1418, William Kepeton was Chaplain of Edgton. In 1681, William Hay occurs as Curate of Edgton.

The Clergy named in the Registers are as follows:—

1725—26. Anthony Seymore Onians, Curate; of Pembroke College, Oxford.

1748. Richard Morgan, Curate.

1749. D. Price, Curate.

1773. J. Lloyd, Minister.

1857. Folliott Sandford, M.A. St. John's College, Cambridge; Curate 1850—57; Vicar 1857—65; died 21 January, 1865, and buried 24th at Edgton.

1865. Frederick Wilson Kittermaster, M.A. Pembroke College, Oxford; resigned 1869.

1869. John Browne, M.A. Queen's College, Oxford; died 2 May, 1877.

In Domesday Picot held Egedune, where were two hides and land for nine ploughs. In 1165 Henry fitz Hameline and Nicholas de St. Laurence were coparceners in Edgton. Henry fitz Hameline's moiety passed to a family who took the name of Egedon. In 1322 Richard, son of Philip de Egeton, granted his lands in the vill of Egeton to William, son of Thomas de Wynnesbury, in whose descendants they continued until 1489, when Margaret Sprencheaux, widow, daughter and heir of John Wynnysbury, granted all her lordships (including Edgton) to her four daughters and co-heirs, Margerie Lee, Mary Sprencheaux, Margaret Tyndale, and Sybil Sandford. The Edgton property thus came to the Sandford family, with whom it has remained ever since, a period of 400 years. Humphrey Sandford, Esq., of The Isle, is the present Lord of the Manor of Edgton.

William Evans, of Edgton, by his will dated 7 August, 1837, left £300 towards the support of a schoolmaster or schoolmistress, and the residue of his property to erect a school-house or school-room. The present school was built in 1872 at the joint cost of the Earl of Powis and Humphrey Sandford, Esq.

The present transcript was made under the direction of a gentleman who has transcribed the registers of the Deanery of Clun, and has been carefully compared with the original registers by him; and the proof-sheets have been passed through the press by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A. It is here printed by the kind permission of the Rev. Morgan Jones, the present Incumbent of Edgton

The Register of Monk Hopton.

Monk Hopton Registers.

Monk Hopton is a parish and village four miles south of Wenlock, in the hundred of Stottesdon, rural deanery of Wenlock, and diocese of Hereford. The area is 2,324 acres; and the population in 1881 was 169, and in 1891, 198. The Hon. Richard T. Lawley is lord of the manor and patron of the vicarage.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives this account of the Monk Hopton Registers:—"Monk Hopton P.C. No. I. Bap. Bur. Marr. 1698—1765. No. II. Bap. Bur. 1766-1812. No. III. Marr. 1768—1812." As will be presently seen, the dates are not accurately given in this return.

The first volume extends from Nov. 1698 to Dec. 1761. It contains 18 leaves of parchment, 10¾ by 7½ inches, in a brown leather cover. It has no heading, or fly-leaf at the beginning, and possibly may have lost some earlier leaves. It is in fair condition, and is well written.

The second volume contains entries of baptisms and burials from Jan. 1762 to Dec. 1812, and a few entries of marriages from 1805 to 1811, but all these also occur in Vol. III. It consists of 23 leaves of parchment, 10½ by 6½ inches, partly interleaved with blotting paper on which a few entries are written, in a parchment cover. At the end of this book are several entries of the year 1766, which in the body of the work are placed under the year 1765. The volume is in good condition, and the entries are well written and legible.

The third volume contains entries of marriages from 1756 to 1812. It is a paper book, in the usual printed form, in a parchment cover, and 22 pages are filled with entries. Outside is written, "Monk Hopton Register for Marriages, 1768. Morgan Jones." This date, when Mr. Jones commenced his ministry here, led to the mistake in the return above referred to.

The family of Littleton is the most important one that occurs in these Registers. Its members are styled "Mr." or "gent." The entries of Adney, also styled "Mr.," of Mitton, and of Smallman are also of interest.

The clergy named in the Registers are as follows:—

1698. George Lem, Clerk.
1713—19. Robert Whittingham, Minister.
1719—25. John Rogers, Minister. [? M.A. Christ Church, Oxford.]
1725—32. Daniel Plumpton, Curate.
1753—56. William Parsons, Curate.
1759—62. John Attwood, Curate.
1760—66. Edmund Pryce, Curate.
1768—71. Morgan Jones, Curate.
1773—77. Robert Williams, Curate.
1779—87. John Atwood, Minister.
1791—94. George Braithwaite, Curate.

1799. Thomas Wright, Curate.

1800—9. W. R. Jones, Curate. [? M.A. Christ Church, Oxford.]

1810—12. Joseph Morris, Curate. [? B.A. Wadham College, Oxford, and Rector of Tasley 60 years.]

1809—12. Thomas Denison Tinklar, Minister. On 5 March, 1818, he had a license of non-residence until 31 Dec., 1819, there being no parsonage house, and he having a licensed Curate residing near the parish.

1841—69. Robert William Dayrell, Vicar; M.A. Magdalen College, Cambridge.

1869—77. John Gibson, Vicar; M.A. Trinity College, Dublin; also Vicar of Acton Round.

1877. Samuel Boot.

1884. Samuel Gracie Hayward; also Rector of Upton Cressett.

The Church is dedicated to St. Peter, and consists of chancel, nave, south porch and western tower, and has a fine Norman window. It was restored about 1840. A chapel existed at Hopton from a very early period, and was confirmed in 1331 by Thomas, Bishop of Hereford, to Wenlock Priory, as a dependent of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Wenlock. Iverard, chaplain of Hopton, attested a deed in 1180.

Monk Hopton is not named in Domesday, but was probably then a part of the manor of Oxenbold, which was dismembered before 1255, in consequence of some previous grant to Wenlock Priory. At an early date Hopton, with Weston and Muckhall, passed to Wenlock Priory, and belonged to it until the dissolution. The manor and advowson afterwards came to Lord Wenlock's family.

The present transcript was made by Mr. T. R. Horton, and has since been compared with the original Registers by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A., who has also passed the proof sheets through the press. They are here printed by the kind permission of the Rev. Samuel Gracie Hayward, the present Vicar of Monk Hopton, and Rector of Upton Cressett.

The Register of Chelmarsh.

Chelmarsh Registers.

CHELMARSH is a parish in the diocese of Hereford, rural deanery of Bridgnorth, and hundred of Stottesdon, and is situated between 3 and 4 miles south of Bridgnorth. Its population in 1891 was 425, including the hamlets of Sutton and Hampton. In 1676 there were 220 inhabitants over the age of 16, all Church people. This number, which probably represented a little less than half the whole population, seems to show that the population has remained nearly stationary in the last 200 years. The area of the parish is 3,259 acres.

Chelmarsh was an important manor of 5 hides in 1086. In Saxon times it had belonged to Earl Edwin, and was worth £6 per annum. During the troubles of the Conquest it was laid waste, and in 1086, when it was held under Earl Roger de Montgomery by Ralph de Mortimer, it was valued at £2 yearly. The population at that date consisted of 6 serfs, 13 villeins, and 8 bordars.

The manor was held by the Mortimers till the 15th century, the elder branch, Barons of Wigmore, enfeoffing here a younger branch known as Mortimers of Chelmarsh. In 1255, Hugh de Mortimer was Lord of Chelmarsh, but Roger de Mortimer of Wigmore held 4½ virgates of land, the "Capital Messuage" (i.e., Manor-house), three mills and a weir. In 1266, the King allowed the Mortimers freedom from all payment in their manors of Chelmarsh and Cleobury of Hundred dues and other moneys paid to the King.

The last Mortimers of Chelmarsh were William, an imbecile, and his brother Hugh, who was killed in the battle of Shrewsbury in 1403. In 1414, Roger Mortimer, Earl of March, was said to hold a knight's fee in Chelmarsh, and in 1428—9 Sir Humphrey Stafford occurs in connection with the manor. In 1545, Henry VIII. granted the manor of Chelmarsh to Richard Jervois, citizen and alderman of London; and in 1628, Sir Thomas Jervois, Sheriff of Shropshire in 1613, and Lucy his wife, sold it to Sir William Whitmore of Apley. William N. Marcey, Esq., of Bewdley, is the present lord of the manor. The register shows the existence in the 16th and 17th centuries of several prosperous yeoman families holding land in the manor.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, contains this account of the Chelmarsh Registers:—"Chelmarsh V. Nos. I., II. (parchment), Bap. Bur. Mar. 1558—1812."

The Chelmarsh Registers to 1812 are contained in three books, of which the earlier one is composed of originally two or three sets of parchment leaves bound together in one volume in the last century. The first pages have disappeared, as the entries now begin abruptly, and there is no sign of a title or heading of any kind. The books are in good condition and carefully kept, but show several erasures, and two undoubted cases of interpolation, a marriage in 1682, and a christening in 1684.

The most important families named in the Registers are these:— Acton (Thomas Acton, Vicar from 1598 to 1616, was a son of William Acton, of Aldenham), Nichols (Thomas Nichols was presented to the living in 1616, by John Nichols), and Wall, a younger branch of those of Faintree, whose pedigree is given in the Heralds' Visitation of 1623. The title of "Mr." or "Gentleman" occurs also in connection with the names of Detton, Otley of the Hay, Sparry, Moseley, Beach, Cocks, Dallow, Walter, Orton, Higgs, and Jasper. The heiress of the Actons of Buildwas, married a Moseley of Maer, Co. Staffs.

The church, dedicated to St. Peter, consists of a continuous nave and chancel with a north aisle of the same length, west tower, and south porch. The west wall of the nave and a considerable part of the aisle are Norman, but there is clear proof that the church was almost entirely rebuilt in 1345. It is very highly finished, and of great interest. The tower was built in 1710. A large sum of money (£2,500) has been recently spent on the church and its fittings, and it is a fine and well cared for building.

By this restoration, commenced in 1887 and completed in 1899, the whole church has been restored to what is believed to be its original condition when rebuilt in 1345; the beautiful chancel screen has been entirely reconstructed, and the south porch once more put in its original place, that and the choir stalls and other parts of the church being carved in oak by the carving class, consisting of men and boys of the parish, working under the Vicar.

In 1716, collections were made by Brief, for Chelmarsh and Ryton Co. Salop, but whether for the churches or for private individuals is not specified.

There is a record of heraldry existing here in 1699, consisting of coats-of-arms of the Mortimers of Wigmore, and those of Chelmarsh.

The first mention of the church is in 1179, when Hugh de Mortimer gave the advowson to the Canons of Wigmore. In 1379, Edmund de Mortimer also granted to the Canons his property at Chelmarsh called Nether-court. In 1345, Hugh de Mortimer of Chelmarsh founded a chantry dedicated to St. James in the church, and endowed it with a house and a rent of £3 2s. 4d., for a chaplain to perform daily service in the chapel for the soul of the founder.

The Abbey of Wigmore retained the advowson of Chelmarsh till the Dissolution. In 1763 Sir John Sebright was patron; and the patronage still remains in his family.

The Vicars and Curates of Chelmarsh are as follows:—

[* Note.—These entries of a marriage and a baptism have been interpolated in another hand, and apparently advantage taken of the very indistinct state of the original entries to write over them. The register book is furnished with a copy from the Diocesan Registry at Hereford of the entries for 1682 and 1684, in which the interpolated entries do not appear. The copy gives us the additional facts that Joyce White's mother was dead, that Catherine Goodman's child was baptised on Jan. 25, and that she was a "dumb, simple wench." It has no mention of John Richards, but gives on March 5 the burial of William, s. of William and Mary Cumber, and the following day that of John, s. of John and Elizabeth Croft. In 1684, the interpolation has obliterated the first entry of that year, which according to the Diocesan Register was that of the baptism on Mar. 25, of Solomon, s. of Thomas and Helianor Croppe, and in the next entry the wedding of Thomas Cowell and Mary Evans, only the bride's name remains legible.

The copy from the diocesan Registry is attested by Richard Hayes, vicar, and by John Croft and Thomas Baylis, churchwardens in 1683, and Tho. Nicholls and Thomas Croft, wardens in 1685.]

For Church wardens office which I served 1662 with Charles Perks (two years before it was due to me), because there was noe Inhabitant fitt to serve in Fran: Doods howse but ye Widd: Dood and ye land sett to Roger Norncott.

[The Register does not give the names of the Churchwardens for 1662, which makes it difficult to know the writer of this list.]

Inside the cover of the Marriage Register Book is also the note, in John Dudley's writing: "John Dudley, Clerk to the parish of Chelmarsh, 1765, chosen by Stephen Panting, Vicar of Chelmarsh."

The Register of Neenton.

Neenton Registers.

Neenton, in Domesday Book called Newentone, is a township and parish, about six miles south-west from Bridgnorth, in the diocese of Hereford, archdeaconry of Ludlow, and rural deanery and hundred of Stottesdon. The area is 1140 acres, and the population was 141 in 1881, and 135 in 1891. In 1676 there were 96 persons above the age of 16, all "Conformists." Lord Rowton is the principal landowner, and lord of the manor and patron of the advowson.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives this account of the Neenton Registers:—"Neenton R. Nos. I., II. (Parchment), Bap., Bur., Marr., 1558—1721. No, III., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1722—1812."

The first Register extends from 1558 to 1663, and consists of 22 parchment pages, size about 22 inches by 6½ inches, in a parchment cover. It is in fair condition, but has suffered a little from damp. On the outside leaf is a list of briefs in 1661, much faded. The Register was evidently copied in the present book in 1598; it is in the same handwriting until that year, and each page to 1594 is signed by "John Fraunces, Curat." In 1599 and 1600 the entries are in the writing of Godfrey Smalman, Rector. In 1601, a different handwriting commences. From 1582 to 1588, the entries were not properly kept, as only four dates are given in these years; and they may have been entered in this Register from memory. With the exception of a few briefs on the cover, all the entries can be made out. Nearly half a leaf is cut off, comprising entries for the years 1606—1609,

The second Register extends from 1664 to 1721. It consists of 11 leaves of parchment, 13 inches by 5½ inches, in a parchment cover. It is much faded in places, and has suffered from damp, but is generally well written. The writing on the cover is hard to decipher. A corner of pages 12 and 13 has been torn off, containing entries for 1699 and 1702.

The third Register is a small thick quarto volume, measuring about 8 inches by 6 inches, and more than one inch thick It contains 46 leaves of parchment, interleaved with blue blotting paper, many of which are written on, and is in boards covered with brown leather. The handwritings in this Register are as follows:—Rd. Yates, 1739—40; R. Adney, 1743—47 and 1760—67; John Purcell, 1748-60 and 1768-71; J. Purcell, Junr., 1772—87 and 1794-1812; T. M. Lyster, 1787—94. At the end of this volume is a list of the Rectors and Curates of Neenton from 1798 to the present day; also some memoranda respecting the rebuilding of the church in 1870, and various gifts to the church from that time to the present day. This Register is in good condition, and is well written throughout.

The principal family named in the earlier volumes is that of Smalman, of Wilderhope, in the parish of Rushbury, who long had a residence at Neenton, which they certainly possessed until after 1720. There are upwards of 50 Smalman entries in the Registers, amongst them the burial, on 4 Dec, 1693, of Thomas Smalman, Esq., who was possibly the royalist officer and the hero of "Major Smalman's Leap," and that on 29 Nov., 1684, of his wife Jane, daughter of Sir Richard Prince, of the Abbey Foregate. Other families of importance named in the Registers are those of Lokyer, Kynnersley, Scryven, Farnolls, and Wotmare. The Lysters are the chief family named in the third volume. At one period Hercules appears to have been a favourite Christian name at Neenton.

The following is a list of the early Incumbents of Neenton:—

1246. William, Parson of Neenton.
1253. Nicholas, Parson of Nekyncton.
1278. John d'Araz, Rector.
1279. Sir Richard de Tedestill.
1294. Ralph d'Arraz.
1320. Thomas de Glesleye, sub-Deacon; also Incumbent of Sidbury.
1349. Sir William le Forcer.

The old church was taken down in 1870, and a new church of All Saints' erected in 1870—71, at the cost of Lady Charlotte Lyster and others. It is in the Decorated style, and consists of chancel, nave with south porch, and western bell-gable. The old Norman font was replaced in the church. At the east end of the church, in the churchyard, is a tombstone to the memory of Gyles Kettilby, a former Rector, who was buried here on 29 Oct., 1675. This stone was formerly inside the church, under the Communion Table, but was removed in 1871. The first church was probably erected after 1138, when the then lord of Neenton gave two-thirds of his tithes here to Shrewsbury Abbey. In 1291 the church was valued at £5 6s. 8d.

Mr. R. E. Davies, who visited the former church in 1868, states that it then consisted of nave, chancel, porch, and turret with two bells. Its style was mainly transitional from Norman to Early English. There was a priest's door (pointed) of rude and irregular workmanship, and an arched recess under a window in the north wall. The chancel arch had fluted capitals. The east window had two trefoil-headed lancets, splayed inwards into an arch. In the south wall was a piscina, with plain trefoil head; in the north wall a trefoil-headed lancet, deeply recessed, with a Norman inner arch. In the north wall of the nave was a plain lancet light, and one with a trefoil head. The nave had an open timber roof, of collar-beam construction, and a Perpendicular south door. The seats were of oak, rude and massive.

In Edward the Confessor's time Azor a freeman held Neenton. At the Conquest it came to Earl Roger de Montgomery, under whom the manor was held by Roger de Mortemer. One Roger held it of the latter, and ultimately it passed (with Sidbury) to an heir female, Joan the wife of Ralph d'Arraz, in whose descendants it continued many years. It afterwards belonged to the Lysters, from whom it came to Lord Rowton.

The present transcript of the Neenton Registers was made by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A., who has also passed the proof-sheets through the press, and it is here printed by the kind permission of the present Rector, the Rev. John Charles Lyons.

The Regester Booke of Neenton within the Countie of Sallopp, in the Deanury of Stotesdone, made the Xth of Julij, 1598 [1558 written over] in the yeere of the raigne of our Soueraigne Lady Elizabeth the 40th [1st written over].

The Register of Billingsley.

Billingsley Registers.

Billingsley is a parish about six miles south of Bridgnorth, in the diocese of Hereford, archdeaconry of Ludlow, and rural deanery and hundred of Stottesdon. Its area is 1,302 acres; and its population, which in 1826 was 176, at the census of 1891 had dwindled to 121. In 1676 there were 70 "Conformists" above the age of 16 at Billingsley. It appears from the Register that the opening of a colliery here about 1796 brought many colliers from the north of England to Billingsley. Judging by the number of entries, the population in 1796 onwards must have more than doubled.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1837, gives this account of the Register of Billingsley:—"Billingsley R. One Book (Parchment). Bap., Bur., Mar., 1739—1812; defective 1747—1753."

This account is inaccurate, as there is an earlier Register extant, which extends from 1625 to 1733. It consists of 19 parchment leaves, 12½ inches by 9, in very bad condition, and much faded through damp. Many leaves have been cut out, at least 13 or 14 at the beginning, and 3 at the end of the volume. There was originally a parchment cover, but only the back of this now remains.

The second Register, which extends from 1739 to 1812, is a quarto book of 40 parchment leaves, 10 inches by 8, in a leather cover. It is in good condition and well written. A number of blank leaves have been cut out in the middle of this volume. The marriages from 1761 to 1812 are entered at the end of this Register.

No families of any great importance are entered in the Registers. That of Dallow is styled "Mr.," whilst the families of Hotchkis, Harley, Rea, &c., are also of interest.

Billingsley at the Domesday Survey was one of the 18 berewicks which were members of the manor of Morville; it contained 1½ hides, and was held by Earl Roger de Montgomery, who granted it to the Abbey of Shrewsbury. About 1147 it passed from Shrewsbury Abbey to the Norman Abbey of Seez, by virtue of a composition. The knightly family of Beysin long held it under Seez. From the Beysins it passed by marriage to the families of Morehall, Clopton, and Harewell successively.

Billingsley Church was originally a chapel subject to Morville, and it was founded and endowed temp. Stephen, by Herbert de Castello, lord of Castle Holgate. The old Church is figured in Eyton's Antiquities, i. 66. The present Church, which is dedicated to St. Mary, is a stone building in the Early English style, and consists of chancel, nave, south porch, and bell-turret containing two bells. It was rebuilt in 1875, at the cost of about £1,000. Lord Barnard is lord of the manor and patron of the rectory. By an Order in Council dated 12th December, 1874, the benefices of Billingsley and Sidbury were united, and have since been held together.

The patronage of the rectory has frequently changed hands. In 1623, Bonham Norton, esq., presented; in 1632, the Bishop of Hereford; in 1662, Sir George Horton, knight; in 1669, Richard Creswell, esq.; in 1677, the Bishop of Hereford; in 1679, Sir George Norton, Bart. More recently the patronage passed to the Earls of Shrewsbury and the Dukes of Cleveland, and from them to Lord Barnard.

In 1322, Feb. 27, Ralph Sagon, priest, was presented to the rectory by the Abbot and Convent of Salop.

In 1350, Walter parson of Billingsley occurs.

The following is a list of the Rectors of Billingsley, during the period covered by the Registers:—

Dr. Thomas Hyde, the orientalist, professor of Arabic and Hebrew at Oxford, and Bodleian Librarian, was born at Billingsley 29 June, 1636, and baptized 24 July. He was son of Ralph Hyde, rector, and died 12 Feb., 1702—3. (See Dict. Nat. Biog., xxviii., 401—2.)

The Registers were copied by Mr. T. R. Horton, and the transcript has since been collated with the original registers, and the proofs passed through the press, by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F S.A. They are here printed by the kind permission of the Rev. John Lewis Williams, the present rector of Billingsley.
